

Robert Meyer
2127 Municipal Dr
Farmington, NM 87401-3916

CitizenLetter

An urgent message from a concerned citizen.

December 5, 2007

FCC Chairman Kevin Martin
FCC
445 12th Street SW
Washington, DC 20554

Dear Chairman Martin,

I am writing to urge to curb the corporate takeover of independent media and abandon your plan to relax media-ownership rules (Docket #06-121).

Current FCC regulations limit the number of newspapers, TV and radio stations any one company can own in a particular market. This is one of the few remaining checks on the total monopolization of independent media.

Consumers everywhere rely on independent media for objective news and local information that is important to their lives. It's not in the public interest to strike FCC regulations that prevent the corporate takeover of these independent media.

Who does benefit? Your proposed rules change is primarily in the interest of moguls like Rupert Murdoch, who are looking for a parting gift from the Bush administration as it leaves power.

I urge you to do what is right for consumers, not multinational media corporations, and maintain the FCC rules that preserve independent voices in America. Please tell me how you intend to address this issue.

Sincerely,

Robert Meyer

CitizenLetters are a service of CREDO®

Joseph Wasserman
87 Shadow Ln Apt A1
West Hartford, CT 06110-1677

CitizenLetter

An urgent message from a concerned citizen.

December 5, 2007

FCC Chairman Kevin Martin
FCC
445 12th Street SW
Washington, DC 20554

Dear Chairman Martin,

I am writing to urge to curb the corporate takeover of independent media and abandon your plan to relax media-ownership rules (Docket #06-121).

Current FCC regulations limit the number of newspapers, TV and radio stations any one company can own in a particular market. This is one of the few remaining checks on the total monopolization of independent media.

Consumers everywhere rely on independent media for objective news and local information that is important to their lives. It's not in the public interest to strike FCC regulations that prevent the corporate takeover of these independent media.

Who does benefit? Your proposed rules change is primarily in the interest of moguls like Rupert Murdoch, who are looking for a parting gift from the Bush administration as it leaves power.

I urge you to do what is right for consumers, not multinational media corporations, and maintain the FCC rules that preserve independent voices in America. Please tell me how you intend to address this issue.

Sincerely,

Joseph Wasserman

CitizenLetters are a service of CREDO®

Janine Sesa
Joanne M Wilson
967 S Plank Rd
Slate Hill, NY 10973-4101

CitizenLetter

An urgent message from a concerned citizen.

December 5, 2007

FCC Chairman Kevin Martin
FCC
445 12th Street SW
Washington, DC 20554

Dear Chairman Martin,

I am writing to urge to curb the corporate takeover of independent media and abandon your plan to relax media-ownership rules (Docket #06-121).

Current FCC regulations limit the number of newspapers, TV and radio stations any one company can own in a particular market. This is one of the few remaining checks on the total monopolization of independent media.

Consumers everywhere rely on independent media for objective news and local information that is important to their lives. It's not in the public interest to strike FCC regulations that prevent the corporate takeover of these independent media.

Who does benefit? Your proposed rules change is primarily in the interest of moguls like Rupert Murdoch, who are looking for a parting gift from the Bush administration as it leaves power.

I urge you to do what is right for consumers, not multinational media corporations, and maintain the FCC rules that preserve independent voices in America. Please tell me how you intend to address this issue.

Sincerely,

Janine Sesa
Joanne M Wilson

CitizenLetters are a service of CREDO®

Carol Nix
132A RR 1
Independence, WV 26374-9712

CitizenLetter

An urgent message from a concerned citizen.

December 5, 2007

FCC Chairman Kevin Martin
FCC
445 12th Street SW
Washington, DC 20554

Dear Chairman Martin,

I am writing to urge to curb the corporate takeover of independent media and abandon your plan to relax media-ownership rules (Docket #06-121).

Current FCC regulations limit the number of newspapers, TV and radio stations any one company can own in a particular market. This is one of the few remaining checks on the total monopolization of independent media.

Consumers everywhere rely on independent media for objective news and local information that is important to their lives. It's not in the public interest to strike FCC regulations that prevent the corporate takeover of these independent media.

Who does benefit? Your proposed rules change is primarily in the interest of moguls like Rupert Murdoch, who are looking for a parting gift from the Bush administration as it leaves power.

I urge you to do what is right for consumers, not multinational media corporations, and maintain the FCC rules that preserve independent voices in America. Please tell me how you intend to address this issue.

Sincerely,

Carol Nix

CitizenLetters are a service of CREDO®

Joanne Darga
7605 Woodview Dr Apt 2
Westland, MI 48185-5946

CitizenLetter

December 5, 2007

FCC Chairman Kevin Martin
FCC
445 12th Street SW
Washington, DC 20554

Dear Chairman Martin,

I am writing to urge to curb the corporate takeover of independent media and abandon your plan to relax media-ownership rules (Docket #06-121).

Current FCC regulations limit the number of newspapers, TV and radio stations any one company can own in a particular market. This is one of the few remaining checks on the total monopolization of independent media.

Consumers everywhere rely on independent media for objective news and local information that is important to their lives. It's not in the public interest to strike FCC regulations that prevent the corporate takeover of these independent media.

Who does benefit? Your proposed rules change is primarily in the interest of moguls like Rupert Murdoch, who are looking for a parting gift from the Bush administration as it leaves power.

I urge you to do what is right for consumers, not multinational media corporations, and maintain the FCC rules that preserve independent voices in America. Please tell me how you intend to address this issue.

Sincerely,

Joanne Darga

CitizenLetters are a service of CREDO®

Barbara Bennett
3032 Brockton Ave
Riverside, CA 92501-2325

CitizenLetter

An urgent message from a concerned citizen.

December 5, 2007

FCC Chairman Kevin Martin
FCC
445 12th Street SW
Washington, DC 20554

Dear Chairman Martin,

I am writing to urge to curb the corporate takeover of independent media and abandon your plan to relax media-ownership rules (Docket #06-121).

Current FCC regulations limit the number of newspapers, TV and radio stations any one company can own in a particular market. This is one of the few remaining checks on the total monopolization of independent media.

Consumers everywhere rely on independent media for objective news and local information that is important to their lives. It's not in the public interest to strike FCC regulations that prevent the corporate takeover of these independent media.

Who does benefit? Your proposed rules change is primarily in the interest of moguls like Rupert Murdoch, who are looking for a parting gift from the Bush administration as it leaves power.

I urge you to do what is right for consumers, not multinational media corporations, and maintain the FCC rules that preserve independent voices in America. Please tell me how you intend to address this issue.

Sincerely,

Barbara Bennett

CitizenLetters are a service of CREDO®

Sebastian G Hyde
2914 Linden St
Oakland, CA 94608

CitizenLetter

Urgent message from a concerned citizen.

FCC MAIL ROOM

December 5, 2007

FCC Chairman Kevin Martin
FCC
445 12th Street SW
Washington, DC 20554

Dear Chairman Martin,

I am writing to urge to curb the corporate takeover of independent media and abandon your plan to relax media-ownership rules (Docket #06-121).

Current FCC regulations limit the number of newspapers, TV and radio stations any one company can own in a particular market. This is one of the few remaining checks on the total monopolization of independent media.

Consumers everywhere rely on independent media for objective news and local information that is important to their lives. It's not in the public interest to strike FCC regulations that prevent the corporate takeover of these independent media.

Who does benefit? Your proposed rules change is primarily in the interest of moguls like Rupert Murdoch, who are looking for a parting gift from the Bush administration as it leaves power.

I urge you to do what is right for consumers, not multinational media corporations, and maintain the FCC rules that preserve independent voices in America. Please tell me how you intend to address this issue.

Sincerely,

Sebastian G Hyde

CitizenLetters are a service of CREDO®

Barbara Matasovsky
31 W Ferry St # B
New Hope, PA 18938-1336

CitizenLetter

An urgent message from a concerned citizen.

DEC 14 2007
FCC MAIL ROOM

December 5, 2007

FCC Chairman Kevin Martin
FCC
445 12th Street SW
Washington, DC 20554

Dear Chairman Martin,

I am writing to urge to curb the corporate takeover of independent media and abandon your plan to relax media-ownership rules (Docket #06-121).

Current FCC regulations limit the number of newspapers, TV and radio stations any one company can own in a particular market. This is one of the few remaining checks on the total monopolization of independent media.

Consumers everywhere rely on independent media for objective news and local information that is important to their lives. It's not in the public interest to strike FCC regulations that prevent the corporate takeover of these independent media.

Who does benefit? Your proposed rules change is primarily in the interest of moguls like Rupert Murdoch, who are looking for a parting gift from the Bush administration as it leaves power.

I urge you to do what is right for consumers, not multinational media corporations, and maintain the FCC rules that preserve independent voices in America. Please tell me how you intend to address this issue.

Sincerely,

Barbara Matasovsky

CitizenLetters are a service of CREDO®

Patricia Martinez
701 NE Tokay Hts
Grants Pass, OR 97526-3570

RECEIVED

CitizenLetter

An urgent message from a concerned citizen.

December 6, 2007

FCC Chairman Kevin Martin
FCC
445 12th Street SW
Washington, DC 20554

Dear Chairman Martin,

I am writing to urge to curb the corporate takeover of independent media and abandon your plan to relax media-ownership rules (Docket #06-121).

Current FCC regulations limit the number of newspapers, TV and radio stations any one company can own in a particular market. This is one of the few remaining checks on the total monopolization of independent media.

Consumers everywhere rely on independent media for objective news and local information that is important to their lives. It's not in the public interest to strike FCC regulations that prevent the corporate takeover of these independent media.

Who does benefit? Your proposed rules change is primarily in the interest of moguls like Rupert Murdoch, who are looking for a parting gift from the Bush administration as it leaves power.

I urge you to do what is right for consumers, not multinational media corporations, and maintain the FCC rules that preserve independent voices in America. Please tell me how you intend to address this issue.

Sincerely,

Patricia Martinez

CitizenLetters are a service of CREDO®

S Hammen
4733 40TH Ave NE
Seattle, WA 98105-3917

CitizenLetter

An urgent message from a concerned citizen.

December 6, 2007

FCC Chairman Kevin Martin
FCC
445 12th Street SW
Washington, DC 20554

Dear Chairman Martin,

I am writing to urge to curb the corporate takeover of independent media and abandon your plan to relax media-ownership rules (Docket #06-121).

Current FCC regulations limit the number of newspapers, TV and radio stations any one company can own in a particular market. This is one of the few remaining checks on the total monopolization of independent media.

Consumers everywhere rely on independent media for objective news and local information that is important to their lives. It's not in the public interest to strike FCC regulations that prevent the corporate takeover of these independent media.

Who does benefit? Your proposed rules change is primarily in the interest of moguls like Rupert Murdoch, who are looking for a parting gift from the Bush administration as it leaves power.

I urge you to do what is right for consumers, not multinational media corporations, and maintain the FCC rules that preserve independent voices in America. Please tell me how you intend to address this issue.

Sincerely,

S Hammen

CitizenLetters are a service of CREDO®

Paul Petrie
200 Dendron Rd
Wakefield, RI 02879-2530

CitizenLetter

An urgent message from a concerned citizen.

FCC - MEDIA

December 6, 2007

FCC Chairman Kevin Martin
FCC
445 12th Street SW
Washington, DC 20554

Dear Chairman Martin,

I am writing to urge to curb the corporate takeover of independent media and abandon your plan to relax media-ownership rules (Docket #06-121).

Current FCC regulations limit the number of newspapers, TV and radio stations any one company can own in a particular market. This is one of the few remaining checks on the total monopolization of independent media.

Consumers everywhere rely on independent media for objective news and local information that is important to their lives. It's not in the public interest to strike FCC regulations that prevent the corporate takeover of these independent media.

Who does benefit? Your proposed rules change is primarily in the interest of moguls like Rupert Murdoch, who are looking for a parting gift from the Bush administration as it leaves power.

I urge you to do what is right for consumers, not multinational media corporations, and maintain the FCC rules that preserve independent voices in America. Please tell me how you intend to address this issue.

Sincerely,

Paul Petrie

CitizenLetters are a service of CREDO®

MR. Dean Mac Kay
5927 Gregory Ave Apt 6
Los Angeles, CA 90038-3877

CitizenLetter

An urgent message from a concerned citizen.

December 5, 2007

FCC Chairman Kevin Martin
FCC
445 12th Street SW
Washington, DC 20554

Dear Chairman Martin,

I am writing to urge to curb the corporate takeover of independent media and abandon your plan to relax media-ownership rules (Docket #06-121).

Current FCC regulations limit the number of newspapers, TV and radio stations any one company can own in a particular market. This is one of the few remaining checks on the total monopolization of independent media.

Consumers everywhere rely on independent media for objective news and local information that is important to their lives. It's not in the public interest to strike FCC regulations that prevent the corporate takeover of these independent media.

Who does benefit? Your proposed rules change is primarily in the interest of moguls like Rupert Murdoch, who are looking for a parting gift from the Bush administration as it leaves power.

I urge you to do what is right for consumers, not multinational media corporations, and maintain the FCC rules that preserve independent voices in America. Please tell me how you intend to address this issue.

Sincerely,

MR. Dean Mac Kay

CitizenLetters are a service of CREDO®

Ian Alexander
4512 NE 126TH Ave
Vancouver, WA 98682-6443

CitizenLetter

DEC 14 2007
An urgent message from a concerned citizen.

~~FCC MAIL ROOM~~

December 5, 2007

FCC Chairman Kevin Martin
FCC
445 12th Street SW
Washington, DC 20554

Dear Chairman Martin,

I am writing to urge to curb the corporate takeover of independent media and abandon your plan to relax media-ownership rules (Docket #06-121).

Current FCC regulations limit the number of newspapers, TV and radio stations any one company can own in a particular market. This is one of the few remaining checks on the total monopolization of independent media.

Consumers everywhere rely on independent media for objective news and local information that is important to their lives. It's not in the public interest to strike FCC regulations that prevent the corporate takeover of these independent media.

Who does benefit? Your proposed rules change is primarily in the interest of moguls like Rupert Murdoch, who are looking for a parting gift from the Bush administration as it leaves power.

I urge you to do what is right for consumers, not multinational media corporations, and maintain the FCC rules that preserve independent voices in America. Please tell me how you intend to address this issue.

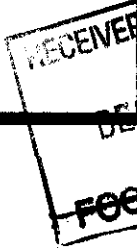

Sincerely,

Ian Alexander

CitizenLetters are a service of CREDO®

Catherine McGovern
36 Glenwood Glade
Oakland, CA 94611-1912

CitizenLetter

An urgent message from a concerned citizen.

December 5, 2007

FCC Chairman Kevin Martin
FCC
445 12th Street SW
Washington, DC 20554

Dear Chairman Martin,

I am writing to urge to curb the corporate takeover of independent media and abandon your plan to relax media-ownership rules (Docket #06-121).

Current FCC regulations limit the number of newspapers, TV and radio stations any one company can own in a particular market. This is one of the few remaining checks on the total monopolization of independent media.

Consumers everywhere rely on independent media for objective news and local information that is important to their lives. It's not in the public interest to strike FCC regulations that prevent the corporate takeover of these independent media.

Who does benefit? Your proposed rules change is primarily in the interest of moguls like Rupert Murdoch, who are looking for a parting gift from the Bush administration as it leaves power.

I urge you to do what is right for consumers, not multinational media corporations, and maintain the FCC rules that preserve independent voices in America. Please tell me how you intend to address this issue.

Sincerely,

Catherine McGovern

CitizenLetters are a service of CREDO®

Cecilia Torres
12214 Loma Dr
Whittier, CA 90604-2647

CitizenLetter

December 5, 2007

FCC Chairman Kevin Martin
FCC
445 12th Street SW
Washington, DC 20554

DEC 14

FCC-MAIL ROOM

An urgent message from a concerned citizen.

Dear Chairman Martin,

I am writing to urge to curb the corporate takeover of independent media and abandon your plan to relax media-ownership rules (Docket #06-121).

Current FCC regulations limit the number of newspapers, TV and radio stations any one company can own in a particular market. This is one of the few remaining checks on the total monopolization of independent media.

Consumers everywhere rely on independent media for objective news and local information that is important to their lives. It's not in the public interest to strike FCC regulations that prevent the corporate takeover of these independent media.

Who does benefit? Your proposed rules change is primarily in the interest of moguls like Rupert Murdoch, who are looking for a parting gift from the Bush administration as it leaves power.

I urge you to do what is right for consumers, not multinational media corporations, and maintain the FCC rules that preserve independent voices in America. Please tell me how you intend to address this issue.

Sincerely,

Cecilia Torres

David Henderson
3450 E Arapahoe Pl
Centennial, CO 80122-1807

CitizenLetter

An urgent message from a concerned citizen.

FCC MAIL ROOM

December 5, 2007

FCC Chairman Kevin Martin
FCC
445 12th Street SW
Washington, DC 20554

Dear Chairman Martin,

I am writing to urge to curb the corporate takeover of independent media and abandon your plan to relax media-ownership rules (Docket #06-121).

Current FCC regulations limit the number of newspapers, TV and radio stations any one company can own in a particular market. This is one of the few remaining checks on the total monopolization of independent media.

Consumers everywhere rely on independent media for objective news and local information that is important to their lives. It's not in the public interest to strike FCC regulations that prevent the corporate takeover of these independent media.

Who does benefit? Your proposed rules change is primarily in the interest of moguls like Rupert Murdoch, who are looking for a parting gift from the Bush administration as it leaves power.

I urge you to do what is right for consumers, not multinational media corporations, and maintain the FCC rules that preserve independent voices in America. Please tell me how you intend to address this issue.

Sincerely,

David Henderson

CitizenLetters are a service of CREDO®

Jan Lisonbee
2505 SE 11TH Ave Ste 346
Portland, OR 97202-1063

CitizenLetter

An urgent message from a concerned citizen.

DEC 10 2007
FCC MAIL ROOM

December 5, 2007

FCC Chairman Kevin Martin
FCC
445 12th Street SW
Washington, DC 20554

Dear Chairman Martin,

I am writing to urge to curb the corporate takeover of independent media and abandon your plan to relax media-ownership rules (Docket #06-121).

Current FCC regulations limit the number of newspapers, TV and radio stations any one company can own in a particular market. This is one of the few remaining checks on the total monopolization of independent media.

Consumers everywhere rely on independent media for objective news and local information that is important to their lives. It's not in the public interest to strike FCC regulations that prevent the corporate takeover of these independent media.

Who does benefit? Your proposed rules change is primarily in the interest of moguls like Rupert Murdoch, who are looking for a parting gift from the Bush administration as it leaves power.

I urge you to do what is right for consumers, not multinational media corporations, and maintain the FCC rules that preserve independent voices in America. Please tell me how you intend to address this issue.

Sincerely,

Jan Lisonbee

CitizenLetters are a service of CREDO®

MR Yoshiaki Nakano
1320 E Linden St
Tucson, AZ 85719-3631

CitizenLetter

December 6, 2007

FCC Chairman Kevin Martin
FCC
445 12th Street SW
Washington, DC 20554

An urgent message from a concerned citizen.

Dear Chairman Martin,

I am writing to urge to curb the corporate takeover of independent media and abandon your plan to relax media-ownership rules (Docket #06-121).

Current FCC regulations limit the number of newspapers, TV and radio stations any one company can own in a particular market. This is one of the few remaining checks on the total monopolization of independent media.

Consumers everywhere rely on independent media for objective news and local information that is important to their lives. It's not in the public interest to strike FCC regulations that prevent the corporate takeover of these independent media.

Who does benefit? Your proposed rules change is primarily in the interest of moguls like Rupert Murdoch, who are looking for a parting gift from the Bush administration as it leaves power.

I urge you to do what is right for consumers, not multinational media corporations, and maintain the FCC rules that preserve independent voices in America. Please tell me how you intend to address this issue.

Sincerely,

MR Yoshiaki Nakano

CitizenLetters are a service of CREDO®

Laurel Personmecca
2530 Josephine St
Pittsburgh, PA 15203-2458

CitizenLetter

An urgent message from a concerned citizen.

December 6, 2007

FCC Chairman Kevin Martin
FCC
445 12th Street SW
Washington, DC 20554

Dear Chairman Martin,

I am writing to urge to curb the corporate takeover of independent media and abandon your plan to relax media-ownership rules (Docket #06-121).

Current FCC regulations limit the number of newspapers, TV and radio stations any one company can own in a particular market. This is one of the few remaining checks on the total monopolization of independent media.

Consumers everywhere rely on independent media for objective news and local information that is important to their lives. It's not in the public interest to strike FCC regulations that prevent the corporate takeover of these independent media.

Who does benefit? Your proposed rules change is primarily in the interest of moguls like Rupert Murdoch, who are looking for a parting gift from the Bush administration as it leaves power.

I urge you to do what is right for consumers, not multinational media corporations, and maintain the FCC rules that preserve independent voices in America. Please tell me how you intend to address this issue.

Sincerely,

Laurel Personmecca

CitizenLetters are a service of CREDO®

Gary Massoni
1411 NE Granger Ave
Corvallis, OR 97330-9673

CitizenLetter

An urgent message from a concerned citizen.

December 6, 2007

FCC Chairman Kevin Martin
FCC
445 12th Street SW
Washington, DC 20554

Dear Chairman Martin,

I am writing to urge to curb the corporate takeover of independent media and abandon your plan to relax media-ownership rules (Docket #06-121).

Current FCC regulations limit the number of newspapers, TV and radio stations any one company can own in a particular market. This is one of the few remaining checks on the total monopolization of independent media.

Consumers everywhere rely on independent media for objective news and local information that is important to their lives. It's not in the public interest to strike FCC regulations that prevent the corporate takeover of these independent media.

Who does benefit? Your proposed rules change is primarily in the interest of moguls like Rupert Murdoch, who are looking for a parting gift from the Bush administration as it leaves power.

I urge you to do what is right for consumers, not multinational media corporations, and maintain the FCC rules that preserve independent voices in America. Please tell me how you intend to address this issue.

Sincerely,

Gary Massoni

CitizenLetters are a service of CREDO®

Diane Rand
2207 Sheridan Ave S
Minneapolis, MN 55405-2353

CitizenLetter

An urgent message from a concerned citizen.

December 5, 2007

FCC Chairman Kevin Martin
FCC
445 12th Street SW
Washington, DC 20554

Dear Chairman Martin,

I am writing to urge to curb the corporate takeover of independent media and abandon your plan to relax media-ownership rules (Docket #06-121).

Current FCC regulations limit the number of newspapers, TV and radio stations any one company can own in a particular market. This is one of the few remaining checks on the total monopolization of independent media.

Consumers everywhere rely on independent media for objective news and local information that is important to their lives. It's not in the public interest to strike FCC regulations that prevent the corporate takeover of these independent media.

Who does benefit? Your proposed rules change is primarily in the interest of moguls like Rupert Murdoch, who are looking for a parting gift from the Bush administration as it leaves power.

I urge you to do what is right for consumers, not multinational media corporations, and maintain the FCC rules that preserve independent voices in America. Please tell me how you intend to address this issue.

Sincerely,

Diane Rand

CitizenLetters are a service of CREDO®

Sam Sheldon
14130 NE Sandy Blvd # S2
Portland, OR 97230-2638

CitizenLetter

An urgent message from a concerned citizen.

December 5, 2007

FCC Chairman Kevin Martin
FCC
445 12th Street SW
Washington, DC 20554

Dear Chairman Martin,

I am writing to urge to curb the corporate takeover of independent media and abandon your plan to relax media-ownership rules (Docket #06-121).

Current FCC regulations limit the number of newspapers, TV and radio stations any one company can own in a particular market. This is one of the few remaining checks on the total monopolization of independent media.

Consumers everywhere rely on independent media for objective news and local information that is important to their lives. It's not in the public interest to strike FCC regulations that prevent the corporate takeover of these independent media.

Who does benefit? Your proposed rules change is primarily in the interest of moguls like Rupert Murdoch, who are looking for a parting gift from the Bush administration as it leaves power.

I urge you to do what is right for consumers, not multinational media corporations, and maintain the FCC rules that preserve independent voices in America. Please tell me how you intend to address this issue.

Sincerely,

Sam Sheldon

Susan Moriarty
2017 Regis Dr
Davis, CA 95618-2535

CitizenLetter

An urgent message from a concerned citizen.

December 5, 2007

FCC Chairman Kevin Martin
FCC
445 12th Street SW
Washington, DC 20554

Dear Chairman Martin,

I am writing to urge to curb the corporate takeover of independent media and abandon your plan to relax media-ownership rules (Docket #06-121).

Current FCC regulations limit the number of newspapers, TV and radio stations any one company can own in a particular market. This is one of the few remaining checks on the total monopolization of independent media.

Consumers everywhere rely on independent media for objective news and local information that is important to their lives. It's not in the public interest to strike FCC regulations that prevent the corporate takeover of these independent media.

Who does benefit? Your proposed rules change is primarily in the interest of moguls like Rupert Murdoch, who are looking for a parting gift from the Bush administration as it leaves power.

I urge you to do what is right for consumers, not multinational media corporations, and maintain the FCC rules that preserve independent voices in America. Please tell me how you intend to address this issue.

Sincerely,

Susan Moriarty

CitizenLetters are a service of CREDO®